

Dr. Zafar Momin is an Adjunct Associate Professor at the National University of Singapore in the Department of Strategy & Policy.

Zafar has over 30 years of global experience in strategy consulting, as a Senior Partner and Managing Director at The Boston Consulting Group, A.T. Kearney, and L.E.K. Consulting, and in industry as the Executive Vice-President of a multi-billion-dollar diversified conglomerate, and in various management and technical positions at United Technologies Corporation and General Motors Corporation. He is often cited in the media on topics related to transportation and mobility, digital economy and emerging markets. He has spoken at several regional conferences and attended World Economic Forums in Davos, Middle East and Asia.

He is currently an Independent Non-Executive Director of PETRONAS Chemicals Group and serves on the School Advisory Committee of Opera Estate Primary School in Singapore. In the past, amongst others, Zafar has also served on the board of directors of Mapletree Logistics, the Center for Non-Profit Leadership and Asia-focused private equity companies.

Prior to NUS, he taught for over a decade in the MBA program at the Nanyang Business School, Nanyang Technological University as an Adjunct Associate Professor, with a focus on strategic decision-making and strategy execution. He holds a PhD from Singapore Management University, an MBA from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University, and Master's and Bachelor's degrees in Mechanical Engineering from Purdue University and Pune University.